

Meet Kratos: A Heartwarming Story

Introducing my new friend Kratos, a loveable Lab/Pit mix with the kindest old man eyes and a deeply devoted mom and dad. While Kratos is incredibly sweet, he's often misunderstood. He doesn't warm up quickly to many dogs except for his sister, Sansa. Young children, with their quick movements, loud voices and small stature tend to stir up his anxiety. (boy do I feel him there some days!)

Kratos' parents have spent years working on his dog reactivity, dedicating time and effort to help him comfortably navigate public spaces. Despite their hard work, they struggled to find a boarding facility they could trust with their precious Kratos.

Welcome to Skagit Canine Club

Skagit Canine Club is designed to make Kratos and those like him feel at home. Our suites resemble individual hotel rooms rather than kennels providing a safe and comfortable environment. Playtime is tailored to each dog's needs, whether it's with a sibling or with our trusted staff who take the time to understand each dog's unique personality.

While Kratos was with us, we discovered that confident leader behind his soulful eyes. He quickly came out of his shell and enjoyed leading us on nature walks around the property- his absolute favorite activity!

A thoughtful approach

Kratos's parents ensured his success during his first boarding stay by getting a prescription for trazadone from their veterinarian, in case he showed any signs of anxiety. We administered a half dose on the first day and a quarter dose on the second day which was enough to settle him in comfortably.

Our commitment

Our staff is gentle, knowledgeable, experienced, and eager to become a second home for each of your dogs just like Kratos and his sister Sansa. At Skagit Canine Club, we're dedicated to creating a safe, loving environment where every dog can thrive.

Your SCC family.
